

SAUSAGE MAKING STARTER KIT

START

SINGLE SPARK
Your business-in-a-box!

INTRODUCTION

Ok, let's get started. This START booklet gives an overview of the steps that can be taken to start your business. You already did your feasibility study and wrote your business plan. You're already on your way and have made some steps. The first chapter of this booklet shows the path you are going to walk as an entrepreneur. For each step it shows how the business-in-a-box can support you.

In the second chapter, we give you the golden rules of your business, some things you should always keep in mind as you run your business.

The third chapter supports you as you make a planning. In the coming months you'll have a lot to do and it's important to stay on track and do things at the right time.

The fourth chapter provides a template for your investment plan. In the investment plan you'll write down how you'll use your starting capital.

SAUSAGE MAKING

ABOUT THE BUSINESS

With this business you will buy fresh meat from the slaughter house and will process it into sausages. To do this you need a meat mincer machine and for sausages a sausage stuffer. You can produce about 1000 sausages or hamburgers a day. You can sell it to super markets, shops, restaurants, catering services or hotels.

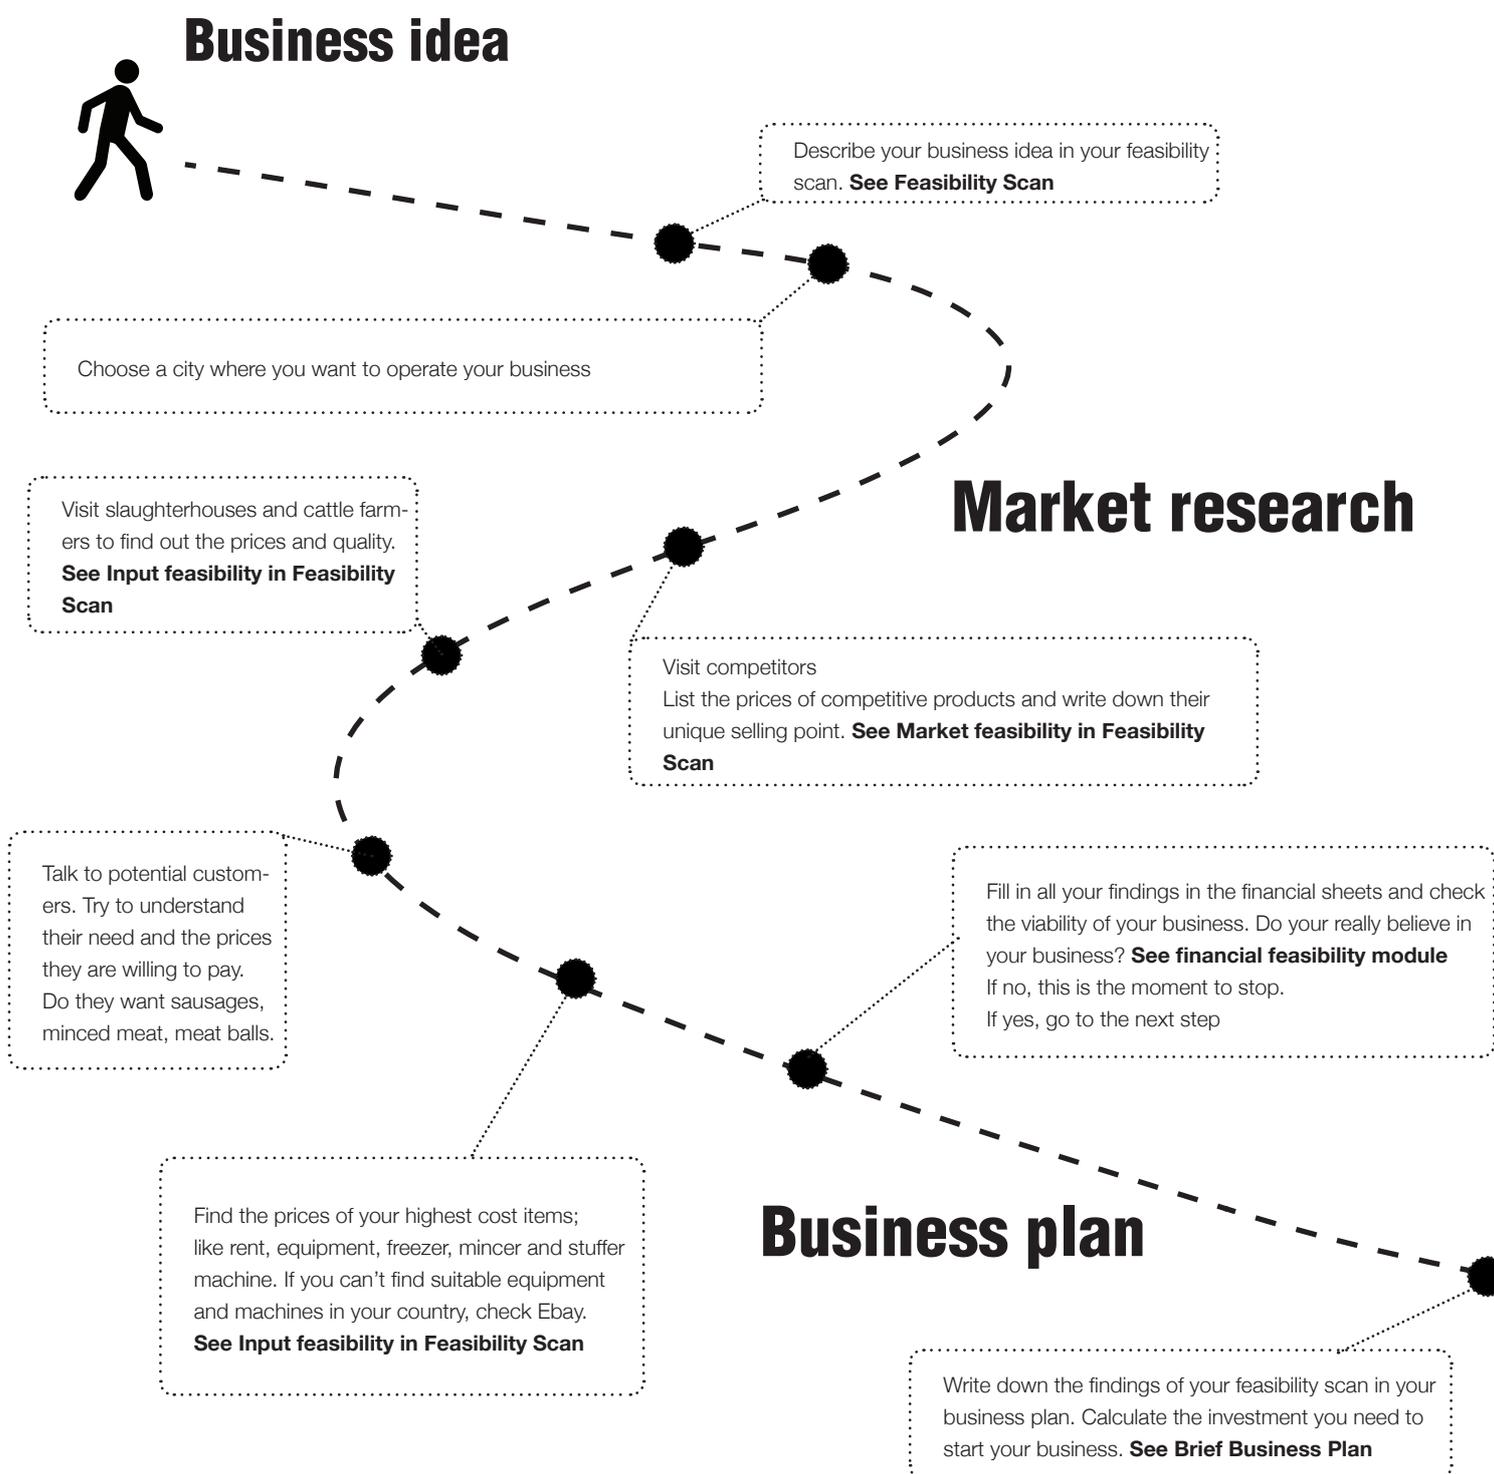

- 1 Buy meat
- 2 Process meat with meat mincer and stuffer.
- 3 Package your products
- 4 Transport chilled to customers

CHAPTER ONE

STEPS

As a starting entrepreneur you're going to walk an uncertain path with challenges and a lot of questions. The image below gives you an overview of all the steps you might take to start up your business. Furthermore it shows the corresponding tools of the Business-in-a-Box which can help you to make this path less uncertain and easier to follow.

Record keeping

Stay in touch with your potential customers and turn your marketing efforts into sales deals. Don't give up too soon, just keep pushing.

Keep records to stay within your budget and to measure your success!

See Record Keeping in Financials

Sales

To keep the business in balance, spend roughly a third of your time on each of these three key things: customer care, business development and administration. That way, you'll have a smooth-running business with happy customers and new income streams on the way.

Visit potential customers well prepared, and take your marketing materials with you. Let serious customers taste your delicious meat.

When the machines arrive first try to make minced meat with low cost meat from your supplier. When have succeeded, try to make sausages. To make a good sausage you need some experience, so just keep trying. If you can't sell your sausages directly just dry them so they have a longer shelf life. See Production Manual

Prepare your marketing materials. Adjust and print the brochures and business cards. Download and adjust your website from the starter kit. See Marketing Tools

Start

Prepare a 30 second pitch about your business for potential investors. Practice this pitch often. Make sure you know your sales numbers and other important numbers by head. See Golden Rules in this booklet
If you are ready for it and you believe in your business plan then go for it! And if necessary try to find an investor.

Start small and only buy the essential equipment. To cut costs try to work from home or rent a low cost place. See Equipment in Production Manual

CHAPTER TWO

GOLDEN RULES 1

Here you read golden rules about sausage making

Make sure the capacity of your machines are matching. The kilograms per hour your mince machine can process should match with the kilograms per hour your stuff machine can handle

The shelf life of fresh meat is short. Make most of you make your fresh meat on order, otherwise you might have to throw away a lot

Fresh sausages contain water. The later you sell them, the more weight you loose because of evaporation

Make sure you have good means of transport to bring the meat to your customers. When a cooling van is too expensive make sure you are fast at you customers place

Work hygienically. Clean securely all your machines and workplace

Process the fresh meat which you can't sell by drying, cooking or baking. In this way it gets a longer shelf life

Visit many potential customers and let them taste your great meat

GOLDEN RULES 2

The general golden rules for start ups.

Start small. Keep the cost as low as possible. Only buy the essential equipment and machines. After the start up phase when you have a better understanding of the market, expand your business.

Follow the golden triangle – to keep the business in balance, spend roughly a third of your time on each of three key things: customer care, business development and administration. That way, you'll have a smooth-running business with happy customers and new income streams on the way.

Try to negotiate with your investor/bank seed capital and the option of working capital later on.

Make sure you have good marketing materials right from the start, this will give your business a more professional look. Make yourself visible, meet with many potential customers.

Keep clear records. Write down all your costs and income to calculate your profit and loss

If you use private money for your business, or business money for private use make sure you write it in your records. Otherwise you won't know whether you have made a profit or not.

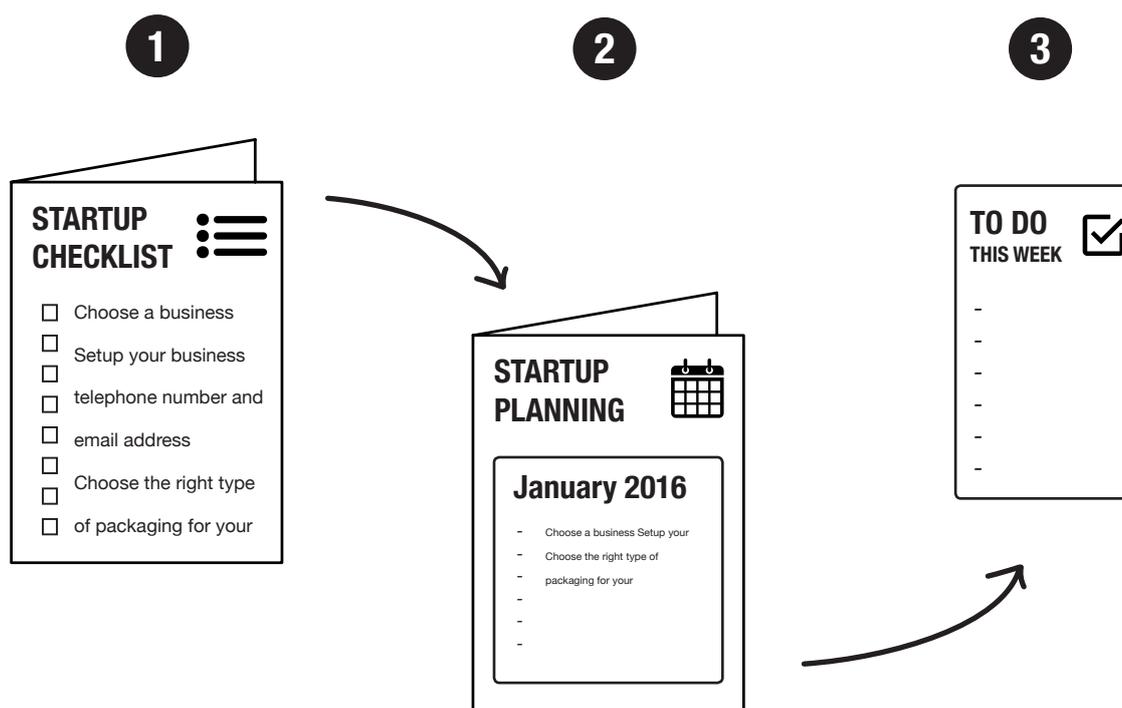

Don't be afraid to ask for help. There is nothing wrong with finding it difficult to get your business on its feet at first – in fact, challenges are expected. Don't ever be afraid to ask for help – if you don't speak up, your problems could get worse.

CHAPTER FOUR

PLANNING

Once you've written your business plan, make a planning about what you need to achieve by which date. This planning is an absolute must, and this chapter will help you out.

To start or expand your business you'll have a lot on your mind. In the following pages you can find a Startup Checklist of things which you should think about. You can add topics if necessary. We advise you to strikeout the irrelevant topics. The best way to accomplish all the relevant topics is to first prioritize and re-arrange the topics in your Startup Planning. After that you can schedule the topics more specific in your business agenda or To-Do list (which you can download from your personal website) or maybe use the calendar on your mobile phone.
